

Meet the Deans

Denver School of Nursing is proud of our excellent, well qualified and caring faculty and staff. That quality is reflected in the tremendous wealth of experience in nursing education and academic credentials that are shared by both our Deans.

Rebekah Lynch, PhD, RN, CNS

Dean and Director of Nursing Education Programs

Before joining DSN in January of 2007 Dr. Lynch served as the Educational Consultant to the Colorado State Board of Nursing. Dr. Lynch was responsible for working with all nursing education programs in Colorado to ensure they were operating in compliance with all standards for nursing programs. Dr. Lynch has also served as Professor, Nursing Program Director and Chair of the Health Department at Front Range Community College, Fort Collins.

Dennis Ondrejka, PhD, RN, CNS

Associate Dean

Dr. Dennis Ondrejka received his BSN from the University of Wisconsin-Madison in 1975. He always thought he would be a Psychiatric nurse and then General Motors hired him and he spent 15 years in Corporate America. He became a clinical specialist in occupational health nurse and received his MS in nursing from the University of Wisconsin-Milwaukee in 1981. His corporate work brought him to Colorado in 1989 working for John's Manville Corporation and he has been on faculty as adjunct faculty at several universities in the Colorado area. After receiving his Doctorate from the University of Denver in 1998, he became an Assistant Professor at the University of Utah.
